Nor could much support be looked for from such monopoly as is set forth." the Chinese public, who would look upon the new law, if it ever came to their knowledge at all, asa new fangled foreign idea which did not concern them. If Mr. Crow, in the special communication he proposes to address to the Government, can show how the difficulties in the way can be met he will render a valuable service to the colony. One of the commones poisons used is datura, which, as Dr. Av-KINSON says in his report on the work of the Civil Hospital for last year, is evidently much used by the Chinese as a stupefying agent. Administered in sufficient doses it would of course cause death, but its chief use amongst the Chinese is to deprive the victim of his monses for a time while some crime is committed of which it is desired he should remain in ignorance. In the case referred to by Dr. ATRINSON five men were admitted to the hospital suffering from the effects of the drug. On recovery they informed the dector that after partaking of a majority of 3 6 to 170. food which contained the poison they became giddy and forgot all that happened afterwards. The Datura alba is a common plant in the island, and there are also other common plants with the toxicological properties of which the Chinese are well acquainted. Mr. Chow says it will of course be urged that Hougkoner, China and Manila. |2-19 | the usefulness of such a measure as he pronoses, in respect of the sale of vegetable noisons, is by no means evident, seeing that addressed "The Editor," and those on business "The | very plants which furnish the drugs the sale I which it is proposed to control, and that Cohen. eriminal would be hardly likely to putchass of a druggist or herbalist a poison

Objections of this character, Mr. Crow allows, are cutitled to some weight, but he snewers them by saying that perusal of the records of the crime of murder by poisoning will know that the criminal, in matters of detail, is by no means to actute as people imagine. The fact of plant's being readily accessible is. course, no reason why the sale of the poison derived from it should not be controlled, for although the drug may be widely known by name the proportion of people who would be sble to identify the plant would probably becomparatively small, and in some cases the mere fact of having to go some distance to look for it themselves instead of being able to buy it at a cheap rate in a shop would be sufficient to prevent its use. What strikes us as the real difficulty is that the keepers of native drug shops are too uncertain found very useful not only in the Nursing Department but also in nost mortem examinations and as interpreter to the Chinese patients: having been in the Hopital for over twenty-two years he is anxious to resign, not feeling strong enough to carry on his work. However, at the argent request of Dr. Ayres and myself, he agreed to remain on until our Nursing Stuff became more adequate :

I regret having to report that there has been considerable sickness amongst the member. the Nursing Staff. The total number of Staff employed at the Hospital was 44. Out of this number twentynine Officers were "warded" duri of the year for illness; of these fifteen were laid up with Malarial Fever, the earth-outting and filling in of the space between the main building and the new wing being in my opinion an important ment, the poisonous agents being opinm, strainfactor in the causation of this. During one week the two Acting European Wardmasters two Chinese cooks, and wo Chinese nurses, as well as myself, were laid up with Intermittent Lin Ting, senior nurse, who has been in service of the Hospital for some years, unfortunately contracted "blood poisoning." and died symptoms generally resembled those of poisonon the 1st January after seven day, illness. Wong Nang contracted "Typhoid Fever "on the 13th March, he was under treatment for five weeks, he recovered and resumed his duties. In addition to these there have been six attendanta from the Lunatic Asylum and Lock Hospital under Medical treatment : one of latter K wok Ting was admitted to the Hospital suffering from "Remittent Fever" on the 28th December and died on the Slat. Here again the earth-culting necessitated in preparing the foundation of the new Officers Quarters was an important factor in the causation of this disease as since the North-East Monsoon has set in both the Lunatio European keepers have had frequent attacks of Malarial Fever in addition to those Officers already men-

I would simply note that in a similar manner this disease: it has also been reported as being rife all through the Kwangtung province; the disease also, I am informed, visited the coast ports; and from the physicians report of the Shanghai General Hospital I find that from August 1st to September 17th of last year there were 8 cases of cholera treated there, of which 6 died, a mortality of 75 per cent. 7.—Dysentory contributed 54 osees, of which were fatal, a mortality of 9.26 per cent.
